

INSTITUTE FOR LITIGATION FINANCE

Research · Education · The Exchange

Learn Research Library Meet Lex Get Assessed The Exchange For Funders

Start an Assessment

THE INSTITUTE FOR LITIGATION FINANCE

Every strong legal claim deserves to be evaluated—not abandoned because of cost.

We help companies, law firms, investors, and claimants navigate the complex world of litigation finance through independent research, education, and AI-assisted matching.

Tell Lex Your Story Explore the Research Library

A claim, evaluated on its merits — not on who can afford to pursue it.

Justice should not depend solely upon who has the deepest pockets.

LEARN

Litigation finance, explained properly.

History. Economics. Ethics. Returns. Portfolio theory. Leading cases. Leading scholars. Major funders. Regulatory issues. Tax. International developments — written to be academically rigorous and genuinely readable.

Understand

Start with the Research Library and the fundamentals of how litigation finance actually works, who funds it, and why.

02

Get Assessed

Tell Lex your story. Receive an educational, funder-style assessment of your matter — strengths, weaknesses, and open questions.

03

Find Capital

If it makes sense, the Exchange introduces you to a small, curated set of funders whose stated criteria actually fit your matter.

RESEARCH LIBRARY

The reference work this field has never had.

Hundreds of articles, written in one consistent voice — academic, but understandable.

Browse all 240+ articles →

THE AI PROFESSOR

Meet Lex.

Trained across litigation finance scholarship, funder criteria, procedural law, court decisions, and finance theory. Ask Lex anything — this is a scripted preview of three real question paths.

Lex

AI Professor of Litigation Finance

Try one of these, or ask your own question below.

"We won arbitration. The defendant won't pay. Can litigation finance help?" "Why does collectability matter more than liability?" "How is patent litigation finance different?"

LexGood morning. I'm Lex — ask me anything about litigation finance, or choose a sample question to the left.

Ask

THE CONCIERGE

Tell Lex your story. Not: upload documents.

The Concierge interviews you like an experienced litigation finance associate would, then shows you — and teaches you — how institutional funders are likely to see your matter.

1. Your Story

2. Case Details

3. Preliminary Assessment

What kind of matter is this?

Commercial dispute

Patent / IP

International arbitration

Breach of contract

Construction

Mass tort

What do you need capital for?

Legal fees

Working capital

Appeal bond

Enforcement / collection

Portfolio financing

Where is the matter in its lifecycle?

Pre-filing

Discovery

Trial scheduled

Judgment / award obtained

Enforcement

Is the defendant believed to be solvent?

Yes, clearly solvent

Likely, unconfirmed

Uncertain

Insurance-backed

Estimated damages range

Under $1M

$1M-$10M

$10M-$50M

Over $50M

Is counsel already retained?

Yes, litigation counsel engaged

Not yet

See Preliminary Assessment →

Based on everything you've shared, here is how institutional funders are likely to evaluate this opportunity — illustrative only.

Liability clarityStrong

Damages supportModerate

CollectabilityStrong

Time to resolutionModerate

JurisdictionFavorable

Counsel qualityUnknown

Why this matters: Damages support is rated moderate because expert quantification hasn't yet been completed — this is the single biggest lever you can pull to strengthen funder interest before approaching the market.

Your full Institute Report is ready to generate.

A 20-page executive summary, funder-readiness analysis, likely objections, and suggested funding structures — written in plain English.

Unlock Full Report

THE MERITORIOUSNESS ACADEMY

Learn to think like a litigation finance investor.

Not about funding — about analysis. Users leave smarter, whether or not they ever seek capital.

MODULE 01

Liability versus damages

MODULE 02

Merits versus collectability

MODULE 03

Why a strong case can still be unfinanceable

MODULE 04

Time value of money in litigation

MODULE 05

How expected legal costs shape investment decisions

MODULE 06

Why jurisdiction matters

MODULE 07

Enforcement risk, explained

MODULE 08

Portfolio diversification in litigation finance

THE EXCHANGE

Where deserving claims meet appropriate capital.

Thirty-plus litigation finance firms, each with a detailed profile: minimum investment, industries, jurisdictions, risk tolerance, and structural preferences. The Concierge recommends a small, relevant set — never a mass blast.

Meridian Claims Capital

$5M-$40M · Commercial & Patent

Federal jurisdiction

Portfolio interest

No consumer claims

91% match to sample matter above

Harrow Bridge Partners

$1M-$15M · Construction & Energy

74% match to sample matter above

Solano International

$10M+ · Arbitration & Enforcement

68% match to sample matter above

Funder Dashboard · Private Alert Preview

A new inquiry matches 91% of Meridian Claims Capital's stated investment preferences (Patent · Federal · $15M–$40M · Defense-side cost pressure).

HOW THE INSTITUTE WORKS

Educational at the core. Analytical by design.

The matching service is a natural extension of the research mission — not the front door.

Free

Open to all

- Full Research Library

- Ask Lex, the AI Professor

- Basic preliminary screening

Premium

Per assessment

- Full Institute Report (20 pages)
- Detailed scoring & confidence intervals
- Suggested funding structures

Professional

Success-based

- Case packaging & funding memorandum

- Curated funder introductions

- Negotiation support

Institutional

Annual license

- Private funder dashboard

- Custom alert preferences

- Anonymized market analytics

GOVERNANCE

Guided by independent voices in law, finance, and academia.

Illustrative composition — advisory board to be finalized prior to launch.

Photo

Name TBD

Retired Federal Judge

Photo

Name TBD

Professor of Law & Finance

Photo

Name TBD

Former Funder CIO

Photo

Name TBD

Commercial Litigator

Institute for Litigation Finance

Independent research, education, and AI-assisted matching for litigation finance.

Learn

Research Library Meet Lex Meritoriousness Academy

Get Funded

Start an Assessment The Exchange Pricing

Institute

About & Governance For Funders Contact

The Institute for Litigation Finance provides independent educational content, research, and AI-assisted matching services. Nothing on this site constitutes legal advice, investment advice, or a guarantee of funding or case outcome.

Assessments, scores, and match percentages are illustrative and educational, generated from information self-reported by users, and do not represent an offer, commitment, or evaluation by any funder. Litigation finance arrangements are complex and regulated differently across jurisdictions; users should consult qualified independent counsel before entering into any funding agreement. © Institute for Litigation Finance. Concept prototype — not a live product.